Grant Workshop on February 7 to be kickoff event for Conference's Multicultural Ministries Resource Center

Is your church looking to fund a special project or need? Has your congregation ever had a ministry idea but couldn't finance it? Have you started applying for a grant only to feel overwhelmed?

The North Alabama Conference Multicultural Ministries team is sponsoring a free Grant Workshop on Saturday, Feb. 7, 2026, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The seminar will cover creative strategies for funding ministry initiatives. The day will include:

- A panel discussion on strategies for accessing grants
- Reflections from persons who are practicing great ministry using grants
- Resources for refining vision and grant proposals
- Small group or one-on-one time with grant coaches.

Featured speakers include the Rev. Richard Williams and Alycia Levels-Moore.

Rev. Richard Williams, a member of the Alabama-West Florida Conference, has written a book on accessing and using grants to fund ministry. He currently pastors Metropolitan UMC in Montgomery, guiding them through a period of reconciliation and transformation.

Alycia Levels-Moore is the founder of ASL Creative Strategies, a program and project management company that creates spaces, education, and partnerships with the purpose of eliminating the racial wealth gap by supporting the creation and scale of black-owned businesses.

This workshop will be the inaugural event for the North Alabama Conference's new Multicultural Ministry Resource Center, located at 5425 Woodward Road in Midfield, part of the larger Birmingham community.
